

CALSTART Membership: Your connection to information, resources, and networks

CALSTART is a clean transportation consortium, a nonprofit, focused on supporting and growing the clean transportation technologies industry which we do through, for and with our member companies. We work together with our more than 210+ member companies and other partners to speed the commercialization and use of the cleanest technologies. Our global membership includes leading national and global manufacturers, suppliers, fleets, government agencies, research institutions, consultancies and Clean Cities coalitions. Our goals are good jobs combined with real action on climate and clean air.

About Membership

CALSTART's 210+ member companies represent all regions of the country. Members rely on CALSTART to:

- Facilitate industry networking;
- Provide up-to-date information on policy and funding;
- Keep them apprised of industry trends; and
- Identify opportunities to work together to find solutions to move the advanced vehicle technology market forward.

Together, we are building state-by-state momentum, demonstrating a compelling business case and devoting time and resources to solid policy in support of clean transportation. In partnership with member companies, we work to accelerate market growth with a focus on cars, fuels, buses, and trucks to change transportation for good.
